About my Leader:

Martin Luther King was born in Atlanta Georgia. His father was a pastor at a church and Martin grew up knowing the bible. He was very clever at school .So clever he even skipped a few grades and ended up finish school by age of 15. He was very good at giving speeches and won a public speaking contest when he was in grade 11. He saw people were not getting treated equally and that became his dream. He wanted all people to have same rights so he lead many non violent marches and gave many good speeches I. He was successful and laws were changed . He was assassinated , when standing on the hotel balcony, when he was only 39 years old.

Was he a good leader?

He was a good leader because he mad good speeches and he told the people that followed him to be respectful and non violent.

Yes he did impact the world because he made a difference in the world.
